Admission Q&A for International Students

1. What categories of international students does HNNU admit?

Answer: HNNU admits two categories of international students: degree students and non-degree students. Non-degree students are visiting students (including language trainees), with a study period of one semester or one academic year, and classes start in both the spring and autumn semesters. Degree students include undergraduates (4–5 years), master's students and doctoral students (2–4 years); degree students are admitted in the autumn semester only. For details, please refer to the Guide to International Student Admission of the current year.

2. What are the language requirements?

Answer: Applicants for Chinese-taught programmes must provide an HSK Level 4 certificate or above; for the specific requirements, please check the admission guide of the programme concerned. Applicants whose native language is not English and who apply for English-taught programmes must provide an IELTS score of 6.0 or above, or a TOEFL score of 85 or above.

3. Is the China Scholastic Competency Assessment (CSCA) mandatory for undergraduate applicants?

Answer: From the 2026/2027 academic year, applicants for undergraduate degree programmes at HNNU must take the test before submitting an application, and the score report is a required application document. Master's and doctoral applicants are not required to take it for the time being.

4. Where can I submit my application? Do I need to mail paper documents?

Answer: Submit your application through the HNNU Online Application System for International Students (https://hunnu.at0086.cn/student). Applicants for the Chinese Government Scholarship and the International Chinese Language Teachers Scholarship must also submit separate applications as required. Applicants do not need to mail paper documents.

5. What application documents are required?

Answer: Main documents include: ① a copy of the passport information page; ② notarised proof of the highest academic qualification and notarised academic transcripts (graduating students may first submit a pre-graduation certificate and must submit the formal degree and qualification certificates after admission); ③ a copy of the Foreigner Physical Examination Form and the blood test report; ④ a certificate of no criminal record; ⑤ a 2–5 minute personal introduction video (in Chinese or English); ⑥ a study or research plan (required for degree students; no less than 600 characters for undergraduates and 1,000 characters for postgraduates); ⑦ two recommendation letters from professors or associate professors (required for postgraduates); ⑧ proof of financial capacity (required for self-supporting students); ⑨ applicants currently studying or working in China, or who have previously studied or worked in China, must provide the corresponding supporting documents. For other documents, please check the admission guide of the programme concerned.

Documents not in Chinese or English must be accompanied by notarised Chinese or English translations.

6. Where can I download the Foreigner Physical Examination Form? How long are the examination results valid?

Answer: The form can be downloaded from the “Forms for Daily Management of International Students” page on the website of the Department of International Exchange and Cooperation (https://oiec.hunnu.edu.cn/info/1070/4207.htm; the file is titled Foreigner Physical Examination Form). It must be completed in Chinese or English, and the examination must cover each item listed in the form; forms with missing items, without the applicant's photo, without a seal stamped across the photo and the form, or without the signature and seal of the physician and the hospital are invalid. The examination results are valid for 6 months; please arrange the examination time accordingly.

7. What are the requirements for the certificate of no criminal record?

Answer: It must be issued by the local public security authority, normally within 6 months before the date of application. The name, date of birth and nationality on the certificate must be exactly the same as those in the passport, and the name must not be abbreviated or omitted.

8. When are the application deadline and the enrolment date?

Answer: Timeframes vary from programme to programme; please refer to the admission guide of the current year for the specific dates.

9. May I photograph my application documents with a mobile phone?

Answer: There is no restriction on the device used for photographing, but the images must be clear, with all information complete and unobscured, and must be in colour.

10. Is an entrance examination or interview required?

Answer: Undergraduate applicants must take the China Scholastic Competency Assessment (CSCA); master's and doctoral applicants are not required to do so for the time being. Whether a college organises an additional entrance examination or interview is subject to the requirements of that college.

11. Is a supervisor's acceptance letter or pre-admission notice required when applying for the Chinese Government Scholarship High-Level Programme?

Answer: Not required for the time being. Students who wish to contact a supervisor may look up supervisor information on the HNNU official website and contact the supervisor directly; a recommendation letter obtained from the supervisor may then be submitted together with the application documents (not mandatory).

12. I am still studying and have not yet graduated. May I apply with a pre-graduation certificate?

Answer: Yes. Graduating students may first submit a pre-graduation certificate and must submit the formal degree and qualification certificates after admission.

13. I am currently in China and have already had a medical examination. Do I need to take another one?

Answer: For applicants already in China, if the medical examination certificate is within its 6-month validity period and the examination was completed in accordance with the required standards, no repeat examination is required.

14. How do I apply for the Chinese Government Scholarship?

Answer: Before applying, please consult the Catalogue of Programmes for International Students for the current year to determine the intended programme, and then complete applications in both systems simultaneously: first, fill in the online application form and upload the documents on the Chinese Government Scholarship Information System (https://studyinchina.csc.edu.cn); second, submit your application through the HNNU Online Application System for International Students (https://hunnu.at0086.cn/student).

Answer: Applications must be completed on both the International Chinese Language Teachers Scholarship Application Platform (https://pmplatform.chinese.cn) and the HNNU Online Application System for International Students (https://hunnu.at0086.cn/student). Before submitting your application on the Scholarship Application Platform, please look up information about the recommending institution and HNNU.

16. How will I be notified of the admission result?

Answer: Admission results are notified to applicants through the application system and by email; applicants are advised to monitor the application system and their email closely.

17. When should I register? What documents should I bring?

Answer: The registration date is the date stated in the admission notice. At registration, you must present the originals of your passport, admission notice and visa application documents for verification; for specific document requirements, please refer to the registration notice.
